ANDREA ROSS is a native Bostonian who now resides in New York City, where she recently graduated from Pace University with an MFA in Musical Theatre. Andrea has been seen on stage as the lead role, “Swallow,” in Andrew Lloyd Webber's National Tour of Whistle Down the Wind, in Next To Normal as Natalie for both the Arizona Theater Company and San Jose Repertory Theater, and as “Eponine” in Theatre Aspen’s production of Les Miserable. A seasoned concert performer in the United States as well as the UK, Andrea performed her solo show at the esteemed 54 Below Broadway Supper Club and appeared as a guest artist for Concert for Diana, a concert performed at Wembley Stadium in London honoring Diana, Princess of Wales. She also performed at Andrew Lloyd Webber’s Sydmonon Festival in the UK. Andrea has the distinction of being the youngest actress to receive Boston’s prestigious Elliot Norton Award for outstanding actress. In addition, Andrea’s debut solo album entitled Moon River was produced in the UK by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Nigel Wright. Enjoy the show!
